Dear Vice President Kamala Harris,

The abortion story that the Biden-Harris Administration tells about itself swings dramatically between claims that there is no more extreme pro-abortion fighting team available or that abortion without limits isn't really a story at all. At Students for Life Action, we know the truth to be the former – that the administration that you help lead fights for abortion through all nine months, for any reason, with taxpayer funding, up to and including infanticide. Throw in the attacks on conscience rights and your willingness to distribute Chemical Abortion Pills to anyone, even sex abusers, and it's clear that your administration is working to earn the money that Planned Parenthood Action and others have invested in your agenda. Abortion is on the ballot in the coming election, as you know.

Your policy story is told in the fine print of measures like the Women's Health Protection Act as well as in opposition to the Born Alive Abortion Survivors Act, as well as administrative pushes for numerous regulation changes, prosecutions and statements from the Department of Justice, and even in changes to the Space Program, as a pro-life Senator's state lost a planned program as he fights for the lives of the preborn among our military family. Support for abortion and abortion profiteers pollutes programs aiding other countries and influences the personnel choices of this Administration.

While this is well known to those of us who track this human rights policy, for most students on college and university campuses, the extent of the radical abortion agenda of the Biden-Harris Administration is more camouflaged by rhetoric about "access" and "justice."

Given news of your coming tour of college and university campuses to discuss the issue of abortion, Students for Life Action would like to challenge you to join me at one or all of my coming college tour dates. You clearly are running as a defender of abortion. Let's have a real conversation about it.

Students for Life Action will be rallying the Youth Vote in the coming election cycle, talking about the specifics of abortion policy. As our YouGov poll from the Demetree Institute for Pro-Life Advancement illustrates, almost 7 in 10 young voter want limits.

Let's talk about where to draw the line on abortion and how to best help women and their children, born and preborn. I'll tell you my line if you tell me yours.

Madam Vice President, will you join me on a campus this fall for a conversation for an issue near and dear to you?

Sincerely,

Kristan Hawkins, President
Students for Life Action
